Members of the committee may take on responsibility for more than one technical role.

Members of the committee shall serve for two years and shall be eligible to stand for re-election/appointment at alternate Annual Consultative Meetings.

In principle, members can serve for a maximum of four terms of two years, equating to eight years in one particular role.

The chair, vice chair, secretary and treasurer shall be elected at an Annual Consultative Meeting.

In principle, the election and appointment of these officers shall be evenly spread across two years, to allow for continuity within the committee.

Appointed members will be appointed based on competency. The appointment process will follow an open request for applications and formal selection process. Appointed members shall be approved by the committee.

In principle, nominations of candidates for election at the Annual Consultative Meeting shall be made to the secretary in writing supported by the signatures of two full individual members of British Canoeing and must reach the secretary not less than 30 days prior to the Annual Consultative Meeting.

In addition each affiliated regional club is entitled to nominate a club representative to the EMRDT who shall have full voting right.

All voting members shall be full individual or club associate members of British Canoeing.

Meetings

The committee will meet at least five times a year. Ideally the dates should be arranged at the annual meeting. Papers should be circulated at least one week prior to the meeting.

The committee shall keep minutes of the business and decisions of their meetings, and these shall be shared with all committee members within a month of the meeting and copies placed on the relevant websites.

At least four members, one of whom shall be an elected member are required to be present at the meeting to achieve quorum.

6. Voting rights of the committee

Matters will usually be determined by consensus, but where voting is required this will be undertaken by the eligible voting membership. Matters that require decisions between meetings may use digital means and may be made by the elected officers.

7. Reporting

The chair of the Regional Development Team will submit an annual report and accounts to the Board of British Canoeing, that include the activity of its sub committees.

8. Financial management arrangements

The treasurer shall be responsible for the financial management of the committee. The funds will be held within the British Canoeing finance systems, on behalf of the committee.

The committee will present budgets, accounts and annual statements as required by the Board or the executive office, as appropriate. The financial year for all committees is November 1st to October 31st.

The committees annual accounts will be made available each year as part of British Canoeing's annual external audit.

9. Sub committees

The committee has the powers to create sub committees and are responsible for the operation of these. Any subcommittee shall be accountable to the Regional Development Team, which in turn be accountable to the Board.

Any subcommittee shall have published terms of reference, follow British Canoeing's policies and procedures and any separate financial requirements be held within the British Canoeing financial systems, including being subject each year to British Canoeing's annual external audit.

10. Annual Consultative Meeting (ACM)

The chair shall call a consultative meeting in the autumn of each year.

The committee shall provide at least 90 days' notice of the date and time, with a call for agenda items, this shall be communicated by the best practical means to as many club, centres and members as possible.

Voting members can request items for the agenda, if the request is made by at least two voting members, at least 45 days before the date of the meeting. Any request should be made by email or in writing to the chair or secretary.

The committee shall provide the agenda and any meeting papers 21 days before the date of the meeting, this shall be communicated by the best practical means to as many club, centres and members as possible.

The meeting is open to all members of British Canoeing and members of affiliated clubs or centres within the region or who live or operate in the region.

Voting members are defined as:

- i) Individual members of British Canoeing (On the water and On the bank), who are members of affiliated clubs or centers within the region or who live or who operate within the region.

Voting shall be by a show of hands unless two voting members present request a poll. Voting members may be asked to provide proof of membership at the meeting.

No proxy or postal votes can be accepted.

The purpose of the meeting shall be:

- i.) to receive from the chair, or the appropriate committee officer, a brief annual report of the activities of the committee since the last annual consultative meeting, presentation of the regional plan, together with a summary statement of accounts.
- ii.) to consult with members, clubs and centers on their views and advice on activity within the region
- iii.) to elect the officers and members of the RDT with immediate effect.
- iv.) to welcome the appointed members

The quorum for an annual consultative meeting shall be eight voting members. Any informal views expressed on urgent matters in the absence of a quorum shall be transmitted to the chair who may refer them to the committee, Regional Development Team Chairs Group or Board for consideration.

At the meeting, the chair or the vice chair shall preside. In the event that the chair or vice chair are known to be unable to attend (or in the event of their unannounced absence), the meeting shall not start for half an hour, after which the committee shall choose a voting member present to preside.

11. If a committee is wound up

If the committee be required to be 'wound up' for whatever reason, the Board will appoint a new committee temporarily, who will call an extra ordinary consultative meeting, where a new committee will be elected.

The funds and assets of a 'wound up' committee will transfer to the control of the Board or the executive office, as appropriate until a formal committee is re-formed.
